The weather in Spišská Nová Ves at the end of August and the beginning of September is generally pleasant and highly suitable for skydiving. It marks the transition from late summer to early autumn.

However, mornings and evenings can be quite cool, with temperatures occasionally dropping to 10°C to 15°C (50°F to 59°F). While the weather is mostly stable, occasional late summer showers or brief morning fogs may occur, though they usually clear up quickly.
